

Preparing together for tomorrow's challenges

VOICES IN READINESS SYMPOSIUM

The Voices in Readiness Symposium is designed to bring together pediatric patients, families, clinicians and emergency preparedness teams to identify needs, share lived experiences and co-develop recommendations that enhance pediatric-centered disaster and emergency preparedness – with a focus on mental health and infectious disease outbreaks. The symposium will serve as an opportunity for those who work in healthcare systems to learn from the patients, families and communities we serve how best to support them during these times.
